Your GNLD Business —There when you need it

When 2 Ruby Director Elizabeth Rea joined GNLD 18 years ago, she was a single mom of three, looking for a business opportunity that would provide a solid income, yet time for her children.

“My flexible GNLD schedule allowed my children to be active in extra activities including sports and music. And years later, I was able to give them every parent’s dream—the opportunity to attend college. My children saw my accomplishments and believed that they could do anything.”

In addition to a schedule that benefited her children, Beth personally enjoyed the rewards of GNLD. Luxury vacations were not a part of Beth’s life before she joined GNLD, but that soon changed. “GNLD provided me with travel opportunities that I previously had never imagined. I have stayed in beautiful hotels all over the country and have been to Rome and London for GNLD events. Years ago, I was thrilled to be selected to go to the Philippines to help build that area and I still have team members there.”

As her children grew and Beth met and married David Siregar, her focus on her GNLD business shifted according to her changing lifestyle. “At times I left my GNLD business, but my GNLD business never left me. It was always in my heart and three years ago, I realized that this business is the best way to help others, build life-long relationships, and maintain a nice income. It’s a job you are proud to work.”

Beth’s renewed focus on her GNLD business resulted in a climb from Emerald Director to a 2 Ruby Director in just three short years, with two new step-ups this past six months! In 2009 Beth’s team developed 13 Directors, 125 Senior Managers, and 209 new Managers, so it’s no surprise that she and David won the number one spot for the Americas President’s Team award. They are also part of the Top Ten President’s Team award globally—a major accomplishment. These remarkable achievements have come through her dedication to cultivating relationships with her team members. “My team is like my family. I never had this type of community working other places.”

And it’s not all work. Beth and David enjoy time together and despite what David may think, Beth is not always thinking about GNLD. “Our GNLD business allows us to spend time together. We used to work separate jobs and spend much of our time apart. Now we work together and do all sorts of new things. He even convinced me to join the gym with him! I exercise on the treadmill—and look for people to talk to about GNLD products!”

Her inspirational success during the past three years has motivated Beth more than ever. “My next goal is President’s Team member and you’ll see; I’ll get there.” We have no doubt. ■
